World War II History Weekend Comes to Sully

Sully Historic Site will host its first World War II Living History Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, July 7 and 8, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. daily. Meet over 100 reenactors from both sides of the war and get an up-close look at what life was like for soldiers and civilians throughout the war. Reenactors will have authentic uniforms and equipment on display in their camps, and many will have weapons and vehicles for demonstrations.

Visitors can also enjoy period music by TreVoché, who will be performing Andrews Sisters music on Sunday afternoon at noon and 2 p.m. Tours of the 1794 house are included in the admission, and visitors will learn about World War II at Sully and in Fairfax County. Children can participate in games and make a period toy to take home. American Legion Post 177 will be providing food and drink for purchase.

The event will be held rain or shine. Admission is $6/adult and $4/senior and child. All World War II veterans are admitted free of charge. Sully Historic Site is located at 3601 Sully Road in Chantilly, VA. Please call 703-437-1794 for more information.
